MARKET PAIN POINT

The Failure of Existing Productivity Software

82% of professionals suffer from calendar anxiety and endless to-do list debt.

01. The To-Do Graveyard

Apps like Todoist & Things are passive wish-lists. Tasks sit unchecked for weeks, accumulating shame and anxiety rather than driving action.

Result: Abandoned in 14 days.

02. Rigid Calendar Blockers

Tools like Motion & Reclaim break when real life happens. When one meeting runs 10 mins late, the whole algorithmic schedule collapses.

Result: Abandoned in 14 days.

03. The Privacy Backlash

Knowledge workers, executives, and creators are tired of cloud surveillance and SaaS bloat for simple daily self-management.

Result: Abandoned in 14 days.

PRODUCT INNOVATION

Kairo: Intentional, Balanced Flow

A breakthrough operating model combining deterministic execution with positive psychology.

30-Day Long-Term Target Goals

Break major objectives (e.g. 'Master Python in 30 Days') into 30 daily stepping stones scheduled automatically at your peak focus hours.

Resilience Recovery Metric

Zero shame streaks. When tasks exceed end time, Kairo celebrates late completions and 1-tap reschedules to protect psychological momentum.

Local-First SQLite Engine

Powered by expo-sqlite and local notifications. 100% private, zero network latency, and works completely offline without cloud dependencies.

Interactive Calendar Navigation

Browse months effortlessly with an interactive date grid and 1-tap shortcuts (Today, Tomorrow, +7 Days) right from the home screen header.
